4 Others Expected To Be Saved

Hope Abandoned For 39 Trapped In German Mine

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Authorities abandoned hope today for 39 miners trapped in a flooded iron mine since Thursday night, but said four other men are expected to be saved.

The announcement by the mine management came after 11 relatives of the missing men, who had been keeping a steady vigil since the disaster, stormed the mine office demanding information.

Rescue workers, many of whom had toiled through the night, continued their search despite the announcement.

The management declined to give any other details but it is believed the four are huddled in a chamber in the east section of the mine, with their escape blocked by water.

Some of the 39 men are believed trapped in chambers of the mine's water-swept gallery, as far as 300 feet below ground.

Engineers bored through the ground to open a shaft so a narrow communications tube could be pushed down to the gallery.

This tube would first establish whether any men were still living, and if so, enable food and drink to be sent down. If any are found alive, a wider boring will be made so they can be hauled to the surface.

Two Or Three Days

Experts said this would take two or three days.

The miners were reported to range in age between 26 and 54. All were said to have been married and fathers of a total 77 children.

Seventy-nine men escaped after the dam burst, which spilled thousands of gallons of water into the mine from an ore-washing reservoir and sealed it at both ends. Seven more men were hauled out on a raft Friday night after the water level dropped to open up one end of the arched gallery.

The seven emerged soaked in mud but uninjured. They were taken to a hospital.

A search team penetrated one mile through the eastern section of the mine in a rubber boat, but radioed back that it found no sign of the missing men.

At the pithead, groups of relatives and friends grimly waited for news. This northwest German village of 2,000, about 12 miles from the city of Brunswick, gets its livelihood from the mine and some machine plants.

Huge dump trucks worked continuously to bring loads of earth to plug the gap in the dam.

A drilling machine cut a shaft toward the gallery to send down a "rescue bomb"—a metal tube about 10 feet long—that could haul any miners to the surface. The operation was similar to the procedure used in the rescue of two Americans, Henry Throne and David Fellin, from a coal mine near Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 27.

Two Youths Die, Two Injured In Accident

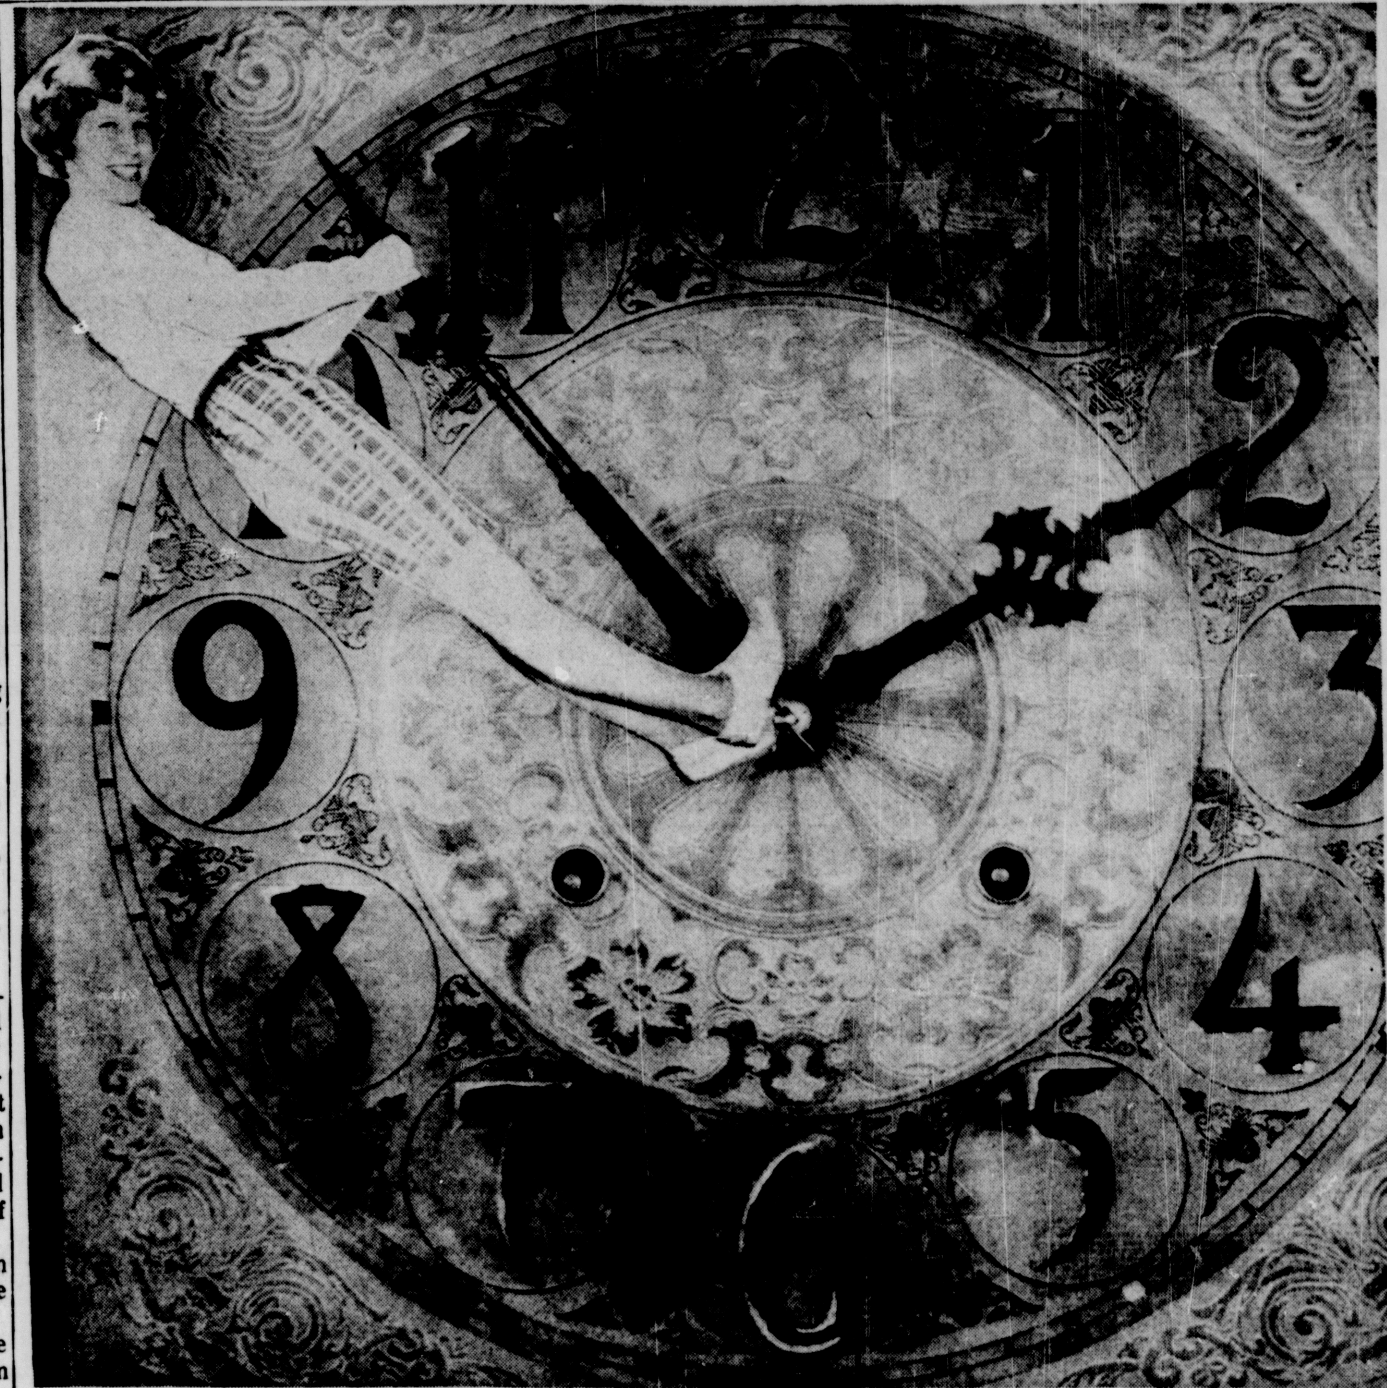

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two teen-age youths were killed and two were seriously injured Friday night when their car went out of control on Ridgewood Drive in suburban Parma and struck a mailbox, utility pole, tree and brick wall.

Killed were Richard Petrisin, 17, and John Stewart, also 17, both of Cleveland. The injured boys are William Ryan, 18, and John Chappell, 17. They are in Parma Community Hospital.

OVERPASS CURBING DAMAGED — Mayor Dean Cranmer is shown above pointing to holes that were beaten in a 20-foot section of curbing along the east portion of the W. Workmen stayed at the project until after dark last night to remove the forms from the newly poured section, which proves the vandalism was done late in the night or early today.

Huge Search Pressed for Abductor

Kidnaped Lansing Tot Found Alive In Ditch

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Tiny, blonde 5-year-old Michelle Moran, kidnapped from her mother's car at a shopping center Friday night, was found alive in a roadside ditch a few miles from here today.

The little girl, missing 12 hours, had been molested, a doctor's report indicated after an examination at a hospital.

A huge search meanwhile went on for Michelle's abductor, described by a brother of the girl as a dark-complexioned, slender young man wearing eyeglasses, a stranger to the boy.

Two truck drivers on their way from Chicago to Saginaw found Michelle lying in a ditch near Michigan 78 near Williamston, east of here.

Hundreds of police and volunteers had been searching for Michelle. Police cruisers swept a 13-county area around Lansing, Michigan's capital city.

Dr. Irving Silverman examined Michelle. Silverman said Michelle had been "frightened and shocked." He also said she had been bruised.

Police Det. Lt. Larry Murphy said it was a case of criminal assault.

Michelle's mother, Mrs. Donna Moran, a divorcee, hastened to the hospital from her home, taking with her Michelle's favorite doll.

The truck drivers, Stanley Van Wagoner and Max Apsey, came upon Michelle about 7 a.m.

Van Wagoner told police he saw the child, stopped his truck, and walked back to Apsey's vehicle. Apsey also had stopped.

"I just spotted a girl," Van Wagoner said he told Apsey. "It must be the one we heard about on the radio."

PERTH, Scotland (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home opened his election campaign today with a pledge to expand Britain's economy and social services and maintain the nation's nuclear force.

Sister Urges Mrs. Nhu 'Quit Politics, Go Home'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The younger sister of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu challenged the fiery first lady of South Viet Nam today to return home and give up politics "before she does more harm to our country."

Speaking out in an emotionally charged interview on the ninth anniversary of President Ngo Dinh Diem's election, Mrs. Tran Le Chi said sadly:

"I think there is nothing to rejoice about this year. The situation is even worse than it was before President Ngo Dinh Diem and his family came to power. The people were not as unhappy then as they are now."

"I am a Catholic," she said. "I am really sad for the Catholics in Viet Nam because the work of so many missionaries for so long will be lost because of the action of this family."

"I would like the Catholics of America to understand that this struggle is not between Catholics and the Buddhists. Even the Catholics are suffering from this situation."

The Diem family, as well as Mrs. Nhu, are Roman Catholics. She said that "the Buddhists are like you and me and it is

Still-Dangerous Storm Rages Near Coast

Hurricane Heads Out to Sea, Then Changes Course

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Ginny, still a dangerous, unpredictable lass, romped near the North Carolina coast today after offering a brief reprieve during the early morning hours.

The erratic storm, which became a hurricane 90 miles off Cape Hatteras last week and then slipped southward to Florida's coast and back, headed out to sea shortly before midnight. But, resuming its former hesitancy to keep a definite course, she shuttled in toward land early today.

In an early advisory, the Weather Bureau estimated her center to be about 60 statute miles southeast of Wilmington.

3.5 Inches Of Rain

Ginny brought heavy rain and hurricane force gusts to the mainland. Wilmington received 3.5 inches of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Gusts up to 100 miles per hour were reported by the Oak Island Coast Guard station 20 miles south of Wilmington. Wind and rain increased all along the coast.

The highway patrol and local officers at the resort towns of Carolina Beach and Wrightsville Beach said no serious damage had been reported.

Ginny's behavior was not easy to follow even on the return trip. She appeared to stall at times, only to start her shifting, stumbling motion just as it appeared she might be ready to stop completely.

Ginny was expected to move generally toward the northeast, shifting to east-northeast. The Weather Bureau warned that all precautions should be continued along North Carolina's southeastern coast.

"It is expected that the east-northeastward movement away from the coast as forecast earlier will be resumed later this morning," the Weather Bureau said. "However the small-scale oscillation in the track has kept the area of gales near the beaches in southeastern North Carolina and these may persist and spread toward Hatteras today."

Threat Most Of Friday

Ginny threatened the Carolinas' coast most of Friday before shifting direction and heading away from the mainland.

Late Friday there was a general scramble from Charleston, S.C., to Morehead City, N.C., as residents prepared for her visit.

Still-Dangerous Storm Rages Near Coast

Hurricane Heads Out to Sea, Then Changes Course

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Ginny, still a dangerous, unpredictable lass, romped near the North Carolina coast today after offering a brief respite during the early morning hours.

The erratic storm, which became a hurricane 90 miles off Cape Hatteras last week and then slipped southward to Florida's coast and back, headed out to sea shortly before midnight. But, resuming its former hesitancy to keep a definite course, she shuttled in toward land early today.

In an early advisory, the Weather Bureau estimated her center to be about 60 statute miles southeast of Wilmington. 3.5 Inches Of Rain

Ginny brought heavy rain and hurricane-force gusts to the mainland. Wilmington received 3.5 inches of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Gusts up to 100 miles per hour were reported by the Oak Island Coast Guard station 20 miles south of Wilmington. Wind and rain increased all along the coast.

The highway patrol and local officers at the resort towns of Carolina Beach and Wrightsville Beach said no serious damage had been reported.

Ginny's behavior was not easy to follow even on the return trip. She appeared to stall at times, only to start her shifting, stumbling motion just as it appeared she might be ready to stop completely.

Ginny was expected to move generally toward the northeast, shifting to east-northeast. The Weather Bureau warned that all precautions should be continued along North Carolina's southeastern coast.

"It is expected that the east-northeastward movement away from the coast as forecast earlier will be resumed later this morning," the Weather Bureau said. "However the small-scale oscillation in the track has kept the area of gales near the beaches in southeastern North Carolina and these may persist and spread toward Hatteras today."

Threat Most Of Friday Ginny threatened the Carolinas' coast most of Friday before shifting direction and heading away from the mainland.

Late Friday there was a general scramble from Charleston, S.C., to Morehead City, N.C., as residents prepared for her visit.

City to Seek Extra Water From Guilford

City officials have requested permission from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to take water from Guilford Reservoir in the face of a threatened water shortage at the Salem reservoir on Cold Run if the drought continues.

Director Fred E. Morr of the Ohio Natural Resources Department said today that the Ohio Department of Health will be asked to contact Salem city officials to determine the water needs and health standards to be maintained to protect the public welfare.

Appropriate action will be taken immediately following a report from the health department Morr said.

The city reservoir, which is near Guilford Lake, is down homes

Today, communication must be almost instantaneous. We are anxious to reach those with whom we want to speak, right now. It is a mark of good consideration to answer the telephone promptly. Telephones conveniently located throughout our home — in places where we frequently are when the telephone rings — are a convenience to ourselves and a courtesy to those who may be calling our number.

The cost of a Residence Extension telephone is surprisingly low — just 31/3¢ per day. A home conveniently equipped with sufficient extension telephones is truly a Modern Home since it provides for our comfort and the convenience of our friends. Why not call our Business Office today and give your order to our Service Representative? You will be pleasantly surprised how good a "buy" an extension telephone can be.

Jim Branch works in our local bank. I've known him for years. We went to school together. But I never felt I could come right out and ask him why he never goes to church. One night when we both happened to get into a confidential frame of mind, the words came easier.

He told me that — of all things — it was because he hated this business of passing the plate for money. He said he saw enough money at the bank all week without seeing it worshipped on Sunday too.

I admit this shocked me. That's why I told him, frankly, that I thought he'd completely missed the point. I told him our minister once said that it gives him a good feeling when he receives the collection; not because this is money but because the people are giving the fruit of their own efforts to God. In the old days, it might have been a sheep, or the choicest fruits and vegetables from the harvest. Today, it's dollars and cents. But the motive is still the same, and it's a good motive.

I saw Jim at the morning service a couple of weeks ago, and something tells me that it won't be long before he'll be getting the point . . . not missing it!

Shouldn't Be Hard to Decide

The Ohio Highway Department is sounding out local opinion on how interstate highways running through cities should be maintained.

It shouldn't be hard to decide how this must be done over the long pull.

Unless these vastly expensive new roads are maintained up to prescribed standards, there is going to be a loud outcry from the motorists whose excise taxes have made them possible.

These motorists have no idea in whose jurisdiction the interstate highway system lies as they drive along them. These are not local highways in nature; they are interstate. They were paid for up to 90 per cent from the U.S. Treasury. It is to be expected that they will be maintained uniformly that the motorists' investment will be protected.

Anything else would be absurd, as far as maintenance is concerned. It would mean that every municipality would put interstate maintenance up for grabs, the way local maintenance is handled all too often. A few years from now, a motorist using the system could expect to encounter signs warning him to slow down because he was passing the city limits of Jerkwater and frost damage was to be expected.

That would be silly. It would be as silly as to split up the interstate highway system among the townships and counties.

There may be leeway on snow removal and grass-mowing, also on police authority, but there is no room for leeway on maintenance of the highways.

It must be done by the state according to uniform statewide standards.

Look Where They're Cutting!

Gov. Rhodes, speaking before the Ohio Society of New York, Thursday night, rang the changes on his favorite theme of economy and efficiency in government.

There's one thing about economy and efficiency in government, though, that needs a little more clarification than it has been getting in his speeches.

People do not really like economy and efficiency, though they talk about it a lot.

It turns out that they always want it for the other fellow, not for themselves. The other fellow who is wasteful and inefficient and therefore deserves to be cracked down on.

Economy and efficiency in government are like austerity and discipline in child-rearing — admirable in the abstract, painful in the concrete. They are not the way to political popularity.

Congratulations

Other congregations are extending congratulations this week to members of the First Friends Church as they mark a milestone in the long history of worship here. Services will begin Sunday in a beautiful new edifice on Jennings Ave. following 118 years of meeting in the old Pershing St. structure.

This is a joyous event—not only because of the beautiful surroundings in which worship may be conducted but even more because of the many hours of toil given by the members to help prepare the building for the fullest use of the purpose to which it is intended. These men and women have, in recent months, voluntarily given of their time and effort to paint, clean, landscape and furnish the church, inside and out, under the guidance and inspiration of their pastor, Rev. Harold Winn. In this way, they have shown actual proof of their devotion to their faith.

We share their happiness and pride of the event and wish the church and its followers many more years of dedicated worship.

Lost In a Fog

By Truman Twill

Everything would have gone without a hitch in the massive air lift of U.S. combat troops to Europe if there hadn't been a fog.

Everything would have gone without a hitch when the Spanish armada tried to invade England in 1508 if there hadn't been a wind.

Johnstown, Pa., would have been just another begrimed steel town if there hadn't been a flood.

The Hitlerites would have won World War II if Goering and the other fat-heads who fed information to their paranoid leader hadn't been liars.

Richard Nixon would have won the 1960 presidential election if it hadn't been for political expertise in a couple of big towns whose votes make the big difference in electoral totals.

"IF" IS STILL the key word in the language.

If pieces of metal and plastic didn't keep failing at critical junctures all the rockets and missiles would be fool-proof. Airplanes and helicopters wouldn't fly apart in mid-air and kill all the people aboard.

If public leaders knew what they were talking about there wouldn't be any of the baffling bloopers that would cause the downfall of the government if the United States had a parliamentary system like Britain's.

If performance were as good as promises, there would be no autos abandoned at the side of the road, no businesses boarded up and offered for sale, no filling stations without customers, no divorces.

But everybody makes mistakes and this never can be overlooked by the potential victims of the mistakes that are going to be made.

To be forewarned is to be forearmed.

Remember the doorknob may come off in your hand and set you sprawling. The arer's razor may nick your ear.

THE POLITICIAN'S promises may not be kept.

The electricity may go off and leave you powerless.

The ladder may topple.

The doctor may make the wrong diagnosis.

The bear that walks like a man may walk like a bear.

The filling that couldn't come out may come out anyway.

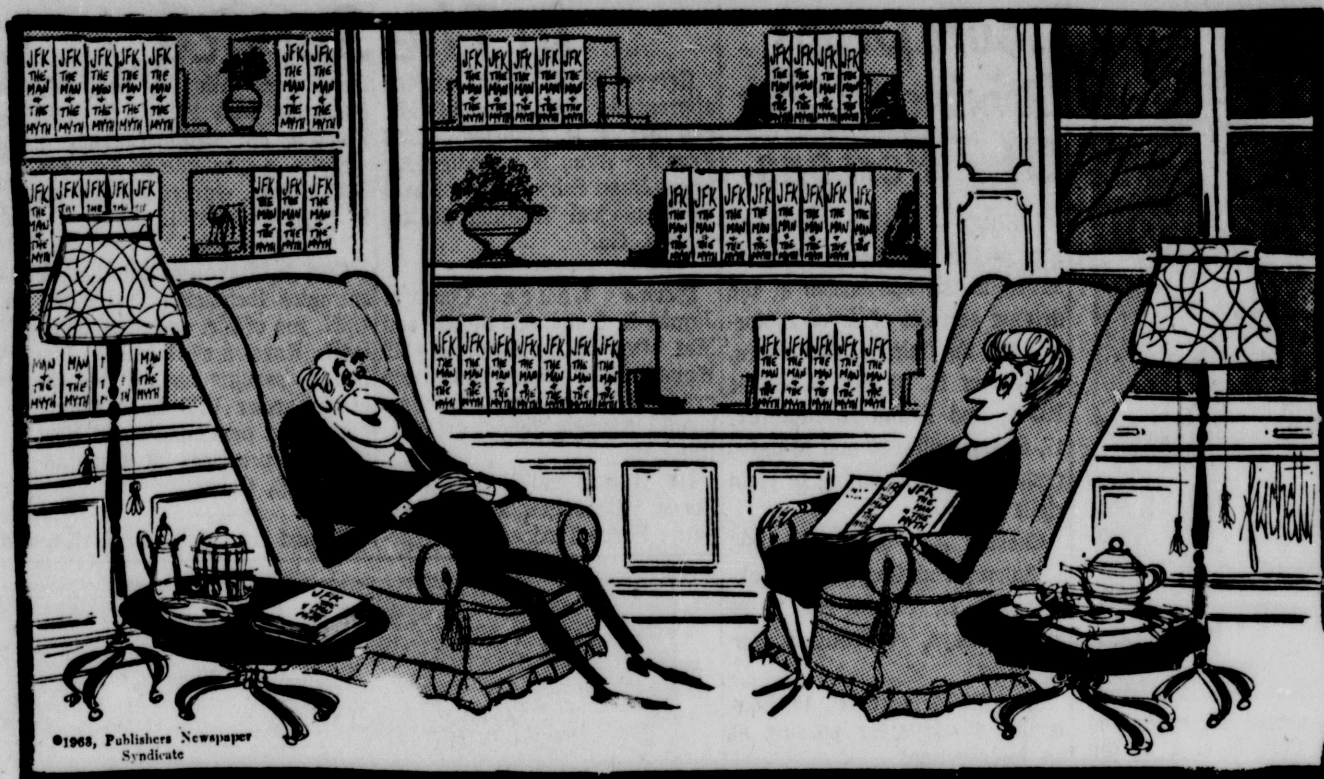

The ardor that was never going to cool may develop a chill.

The word that wasn't going to be broken may be broken.

The deodorant guaranteed not to fail may fail anyway.

And the new razor blade that was going to give 14 shaves may conk out on 11.

In the pushbutton war of the future—you can bet — the joker in charge of pushing the button may get lost in a fog.

"I Don't Know Anything About Literature But I Know What I Like"

1964 Not Nixon's Year

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Those commentators and reporters in the press and over the air waves who have been giving so much attention to the possible emergence of Richard M. Nixon as a presidential candidate, should become aware of certain realities which make any such development wholly improbable if not impossible.

Some of the realities become apparent after a mere application of common sense to the situation before the Republican party and Nixon himself. Some are clear after a little investigation.

In brief, those realities are: Much of the talk of Nixon as a candidate has been planted deliberately. In general, it has been done to injure or impair the chances for a Goldwater nomination. Such talk is projected not because some people love Nixon more but because they love Goldwater less.

Not only political motives, but other considerations are involved in the projection of these rumors.

As Nixon himself said in an interview in Paris during his recent business trip there: "Anyone who wants to run against John F. Kennedy would have a hole in his head if he didn't start now to build up a staff, especially a research staff."

NIXON HAS no such staff. He has only two young women secretaries who handle his mail and matters connected with his law business.

The time has passed when a candidate nominated at a convention could, like William Jennings Bryan, take to the hustings with only an alpaca coat or a Prince Albert to be worn according to the weather and a sort of press secretary and general factotum to accompany him.

A candidate, from the time he first decides to make a contest for the nomination, must now have a staff of political managers and a number of specialists who can provide the material for speeches and statements. Rockefeller has had such a staff ever since he ran for governor in 1958. Goldwater is assembling one now.

When we contemplate a nomination of Nixon at the convention as a compromise, certain hard facts emerge. Such a nomination would come only after a terrific battle with the numerous and enthusiastic Goldwater supporters.

Nixon, if nominated, not only would have to fight the powerful Kennedy machine but labor to unify his party. A devastating defeat would certainly follow such a campaign.

There is no important demand among organization Republican professionals for a Nixon nomination. He is well liked and respected. But those realists believe that 1964 is not Nixon's year.

MOREOVER, after long consideration, Nixon moved from California and entered upon the serious practice of law.

The firm which he joined is no courthouse affair with one foot in politics and another in the courtroom. It is a firm with very large corporations as clients with interests in the United States and abroad. It is non-political. Nixon is quite aware of this serious and permanent commitment.

The fact that Nixon has recently expressed his views on national affairs is based upon a very human quality.

A Republican with his experience, his past public service and his status in the party has an obligation to make his views known.

A man of his eminence simply cannot vanish from sight. And these expressions of his views can be of great value to his party and the country. But if every time he says something in public there will be raised the question of his possible candidacy, his influence will be completely destroyed.

THIS NEW 'demand' for Nixon's nomination, however, comes from states where Nixon in 1960 lost to Kennedy. Certain polls show that Nixon has lost ground to Goldwater in the areas where he was strongest in 1960. Those areas — the West, most of the Midwest, and the South — are now heavily for Goldwater.

Some of the people who are talking about Nixon now are the very ones who were violently opposed to his nomination four years ago.

His more devoted and loyal friends are now against projecting him into contention for the nomination. They feel that such contention, with such odds and lack of preparation against him, might well lower the curtain and put out the lights upon the career of one of the finest public figures of this generation.

Finally, I know, from personal experience that among the public figures of this and past years, no one has been so clear and frank in the expressions of his personal preferences and opinions.

The smear 'Tricky Dick' is far from the mark.

Perhaps if Nixon had been less candid and more tricky, he would now be living in the White House. His present disclaimers can and should be taken at full value.

King and Kennedy on Civil Rights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe there will have to be another March on Washington, and this time the demonstration may have to be directed to President Kennedy himself.

For Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., hero of the last "march" and perhaps the most prominent of the Negro integration leaders, feels that Mr. Kennedy has retreated on the proposed civil rights legislation. Dr. King has just said in a public speech that "No president can be great or even fit for office if he attempts to accommodate political expediency with human rights."

This criticism came as a result of the efforts of the President and the attorney general to obtain a civil rights bill which would get through both houses of Congress. Dr. King accused the administration of using "bad tactics" and said that, "if you start with a weak bill, and then get it watered down, it could become 'a nothing bill.'"

The President, however, is much more familiar with what goes on behind the scenes in Congress than is Dr. King. Having been a member of the House as well as the Senate, Mr. Kennedy is acquainted with the many difficult barriers that arise through ordinary parliamentary procedures, and these can block the passage of legislation.

He feels that, if there is an opportunity to obtain later a separate bill that is stronger, he could always give his support to it.

THE NATION is witnessing at the moment one of the unfortunate political results of the numerous marches and demonstrations throughout the country which, instead of helping the Negro cause, have made it even more difficult than before to get results in Congress.

This is because the Negro leaders themselves are not united and one set of politicians is not sure which bill will get them the most Negro votes at the polls while another set of congressmen sees ways of mobilizing votes of resentment for a good deal of opposition has been created among businesses to be affected by the proposed law.

There are fundamental differences between what is being called a "strong" bill and a "weak" bill. Thus, the President would be content with a bill which provided safeguards for the right to vote, the speed-up of public school desegregation and the banning of discrimination in "public accommodations" and in programs which the federal government itself operates.

Extremists, on the other hand, take the position that the bill on public accommodations should be aimed not merely at hotels and motels, restaurants, lunch counters, retail stores, gasoline stations and places of entertainment but also at any business operating under state or city "authorization, permission or license."

IT WAS THIS sweeping provision which members of the House Committee of the Judiciary were ready to champion. It caused dismay in the ranks of the administration because of a fear that such a clause would arouse nationwide opposition since it could be applied to private schools, social clubs, law firms, insurance companies and apartment houses.

The so-called "strong" bill also included an authorization for the attorney general to intervene by means of an injunction suit wherever there was any claim of denial of rights, privileges or immunities secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States.

It has been felt by critics of such a law would open the way to legal controversies on freedom of the press and freedom of worship and a host of other questions where Congress hitherto has not delegated any such broad power to the Department of Justice.

As soon as it became evident that the bill was of an extreme nature, some of the members of Congress who do not want to see any legislation at all passed seized the opportunity to help get the "strong" bill out of the House Committee and on to the floor, where it might readily be defeated and no substitute enacted at this session of Congress.

Being practical politicians, the President and the attorney general are anxious to get some civil rights legislation passed right away.

THEY WOULD like to avoid a lengthy controversy in Congress during 1964 as the presidential campaign approaches. If they could succeed in having enacted the first comprehensive civil rights legislation passed by Congress in more than 100 years, they would be satisfied.

The administration, of course, is following a normal and natural course in politics. Many of the Negro leaders, on the other hand, have gotten an exaggerated impression of what the March on Washington really meant in a political sense and are insisting on an "all or nothing" procedure.

There are moreover, some Republicans in Congress who are quick to take advantage of this situation and who will not only help to get the bills out of committee but will vote for them on the floor because they wish to put their Democratic opponents in a hole and go before the Negro voters in the populous states as having championed a really strong civil rights measure.

The whole controversy is characteristic of the game of politics.

Back Through the Years

(From The News Files)

10 YEARS AGO — Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual "Bosses Night" banquet tonight at the Slovak Hall.

A square dance for members of the Salem Kiwanis Club and their guests will be held Tuesday at the Country Club. W. J. Hunston is program chairman.

25 YEARS AGO — Dr. Charles Burgess Ketcham, new president of Mount Union College, spoke to members of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Several hundred persons are expected to participate in the Legion's Mardi Gras parade Friday night.

35 YEARS AGO — L. C. Bolles, head grid coach at Wooster College, was guest speaker when Kiwanis met Thursday at the Memorial Building.

Mrs. W. P. Davis of E. High St. spent the weekend visiting relatives in Carrollton.

Today In History

Today is Saturday, Oct. 26, the 299th day of 1963. There are 66 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1785, the first mules to arrive in the United States reached Boston from Spain. They were a gift to George Washington from King Charles III.

On this date: In 1774, the first Continental Congress adjourned in Philadelphia.

In 1825, the Erie Canal was opened for traffic, linking Lake Erie at Buffalo with the Hudson River at Albany, N.Y.

In 1942, U.S. naval units repulsed a Japanese counter-attack against newly won Allied positions on Guadalcanal Island during World War II.

In 1954, disastrous floods swept the Salerno area in Italy.

Ten years ago — The United States charged in the United Nations that Soviet personnel supervised the North Korean center where Communist torture induced American fliers to confess they had engaged in germ warfare.

Five years ago—Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro warned the United States to stay out of the rebellion against the Batista regime.

One year ago—Six New York City firemen were killed when a wall collapsed during a five-alarm fire at a soap factory.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter Belinda who is 16, belongs to a club. There are 25 members, all high school girls between 15 and 18 years of age. They do some interesting things and raise money for good causes. My husband and I always thought it was a worthwhile group.

Last night our daughter told us she are planning a raffle. The tickets will sell for 25 cents a piece. The first prize is a date with Belinda — all expenses paid. My husband was absolutely horrified. He said no daughter of his is going to sell her time like a you-know-what. Frankly, I thought it was a rather ingenious idea and saw nothing wrong with it.

Belinda was terribly disappointed. She thought it was a high honor to have been selected as the "prize." We have decided to leave it up to you. Is it immoral as my husband says? Or is he being square and old-fashioned as my daughter says? — TWO AGAINST ONE.

Dear Mother: Sorry, dear, but I just evened the odds. Novel? Yes. But speaking strictly as a mother, I wouldn't want my daughter raffled off as if she were a kewpie doll at a tent show. Since the girls seem to be so full of novel ideas, let them think of something else.

Ungifted Bag

Dear Ann: A few days ago one of the women in the office mentioned that she had a fairly extensive handbag which she had carried only a few times. She recently married and her husband doesn't like the bag. She asked if I could use it and I suggested that she bring it in and I'd see.

This morning she brought the bag in and I liked it. I thanked her warmly for her generosity and told her I appreciated her thinking of me. She then said, "I didn't mean it as a gift. I had in mind selling it to you." We were both terribly embarrassed and I told her I didn't wish to buy it.

All my life I've been giving away clothes. I wouldn't dream of selling anything to a friend. Will you please tell me if I am stupid or if she is just too commercial to be considered a friend? Thank you. — BAG-LESS.

Dear Bagless: Generally speaking it's a bum idea to sell used articles to a friend. Rarely do both parties feel they made a good deal.

In this instance the girl should have made it clear from the outset that she wanted to sell the bag. Her failure to do this put you in a difficult position and it didn't do much for the friendship.

Foolish Widow

Dear Ann: I was very much interested in the letter signed "Keeper of the Closet Keys." This woman wanted to know if she should tell her grown children that their father, who had been dead 15 years, was really a scoundrel, rotten to the core and not the fine man she had taught them to believe he was.

The reason? Well, she was having an affair with some joker who promised to marry her "when he retires" in 1936. Her children did not approve of her traveling with this man since they are not yet married. Her attitude was, Why should they criticize me when I protected their father's reputation for so many years? I'm an angel compared with what he was.

I have some news for the foolish woman. Discrediting her dead husband in the eyes of his children won't make her look one bit better. And furthermore, this guy won't marry her in 1966 or 1976 eight WISER NOW.

Dear Now: Thanks for writing. I hope "Keeper" sees your letter. She should throw those keys in the lake and forget where that door is.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TWO MEN CHARGED

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Ironton men have been charged with preparing to start a fire in the Wayne National Forest near here, which is dry as a tinder-drought.

U. S. Commissioner Julian Schneider set bonds of $1,000 each for Gary Markins, 18, and Emil Collins, 21. Nov. 1 was set as date for a hearing. The men were found starting a fire by Quentin Buck, a forest service investigator. Buck extinguished the blaze.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: For those who have beautiful flower hats, here's a trick to use when the flowers get out of place:

I put an invisible nylon hairnet over my flowered hats and then straighten any flower which happens to be out of place. Then all I do is pick up my can of hair spray and spray the hat and all.

The hair spray has just enough stiffening in it to hold the flowers in place. This is especially good for damp days when delicate flowers seem to wilt.

When ready to wear your hat just remove the net!

VIDA AK.

Be sure to spot test first, because we do not know what brand of hair spray you are using and some contain lacquer and other fixatives. It's a great idea.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: What to use to prevent mildew on good books? Ours are an expensive set of encyclopedias.

I.D.K.

DEAR FRIEND: Take an old washrag and dip it in a solution of 5 per cent copper sulfate. (You can buy it at your drugstore; it is poisonous, so keep it out of the reach of children and do not buy too much. . . a couple of ounces will do.) Dip your washrag in this solution, and hang it outside to dry. (Hang it high enough so that no child or animal can get to it.)

After the washrag is thoroughly dry, rub all your leather bound books with it. It will not harm the leather. It prevents mildew. This cloth will do hundreds and hundreds of volumes of leather books.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have three girls and each had a cotton raincoat covered with clear plastic. After a year or so, the plastic was torn. I just ripped the plastic off the outside of the raincoats and the cotton part of the coats makes darling little dusters for the girls to wear around the house.

MRS. H. H.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE: This idea is really "for the birds."

When you stuff roasting chickens, try using large safety pins for the closing. After sterilizing the pins in boiling water, I insert them in an up-and-down position, (as many as were needed, to hold in the stuffing) and lo and behold, it worked like magic. So easy and quick too.

EMMA SMITH.

Now isn't that cute?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: After using my broiler pan, which is very hard to clean, I sprinkle my powdered kitchen cleanser all over the burr; crusty parts after the pan has cooled . . . and then lay my dripping wet dishcloth over it. I let this sit awhile.

By the time we have finished eating and the other dishes are clean, the cleanser has done its work and the pan is almost clean with practically no scrubbing at all. Works beautifully.

L.G.K.

It works! Try it!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to spill my coffee: getting it from the container into my canister until I thought of emptying the contents from a one-pound can of coffee into a paper sack and then pouring the coffee into the canister. You never spill a drop this way.

7 Dead After Eating Smoked Fish

Food Poisoning Scare Is Revived

DETROIT (AP) — The botulism food poisoning scare flared anew today with a federal agency's recommendation that housewives get rid of smoked fish products which came from the Great Lakes area.

The Food and Drug Administration in Washington Friday night urged homemakers to destroy any smoked fish products they have under refrigeration, provided the fish were caught in the Great Lakes or processed in Great Lakes area plants.

FDA Commissioner George P.

Hard Liquor Is Hard on Heart, Researchers Find

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hard liquor can make the heart work harder.

This is true in dogs, at least, whether they took their alcohol as pure ethyl alcohol or in bourbon, two heart researchers reported today.

The alcohol effect was described to the American Heart Association by Drs. Ismail U. Degerli and Watts R. Webb of the University of Mississippi medical center.

It's long been thought, they said, that alcohol helped the heart by dilating coronary arteries which bring blood to the heart muscle tissue itself. This expansion of arteries is thought to increase the flow of blood to a damaged heart.

But the tests with dogs do not bear this out, they said.

When the animals were given alcohol, their hearts pumped out more blood by working harder. At the same time, the flow of blood through the coronary arteries decreased. This meant the heart muscle was receiving less oxygen while it was doing more work.

Some dogs were given the equivalent of a cocktail in alcoholic content — an amount a man could consume and still not have more alcohol in his bloodstream than is legal for driving a car.

Other dogs received enough alcohol to make a man dead drunk.

The coronary blood flow decreased almost directly in proportion to the amount of alcohol, Drs. Degerli and Webb said.

With Patients

Two area persons were treated and released Friday at Alliance City Hospital for injuries received in separate miscellaneous accidents.

Raymond Spencer, 41, of RD 1, Berlin Center, was treated at 4:10 p.m. after he had lacerated his right arm on a piece of steel while working at the American Steel Foundries in Alliance.

Donald George, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald George of Deerfield, was treated after being bitten on the abdomen by a dog.

Russell Waitman of 905 Morris Ave. has re-entered Akron General Hospital for surgical treatment.

2-Year-Old Boy Hit By Auto Succumbs

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Two-year-old Charles Metlacka of Warren died in Youngstown North Side Hospital early today, nine hours after he was struck by an automobile. The boy's sister told police she was with him when he ran out from behind a parked car into the street.

United School Sets Session For Public

United Local public relations committee will hold an open meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the study hall of the high school. Purpose of the meeting is to help the school and community work more closely together toward improved educational opportunities. The public is invited.

Larick said he issued the emergency advisory because of the "deadly nature of botulism poisoning and the occurrence of seven deaths in the last few weeks from botulism associated with smoked whitefish and chubs produced in the Great Lakes area."

An advisory committee of scientific experts told the FDA, Larick said that 5 recent deaths in Tennessee and Alabama were attributed to one lot of smoked "whitefish chubs." The product was shipped to a Nashville, Tenn., grocery chain warehouse by a Michigan firm. H. J. Dornbos & Bro. of Grand Haven, Mich., halted processing of smoked fish after the shipment was traced to its plant. The company had said it needed to resume operations early next week, pending the outcome of laboratory tests of its fish samples.

Two other deaths—those of a Kalamazoo Mich. couple—also were blamed on botulism Type E poisoning. But authorities said they never were able to find the source of the fish eaten by the victims.

The latest development from Washington was accompanied by announcements that Michigan officials seized stocks of two state processing plants and that Chicago Health Commissioner Samuel Andelman ordered that all smoked fish products in city stores and warehouses be inspected and warned housewives to destroy all such foods on their shelves. Andelman said 90 investigators will work on the case all week-end.

The FDA singled out fish products that are packaged in sealed plastic wrappers and those that are sold in bulk without any wrappers. Canned products are not involved, the agency said.

Michigan authorities said they found the organisms—Clostridium botulinum—in samples of smoked fish from the St. Joseph Fisheries of St. Joseph, Mich., and Royal Snack Food, Inc., of Detroit.

Ceramic Group Names Reid As Secretary

Frank P. Reid of Columbus has been elevated to general secretary of the American Ceramic Society, succeeding Charles S. Pearce, also of Columbus, who served more than 19 years.

Reid will take over general administration of the society at its headquarters on N. High St. in Columbus. Pearce, who retired Aug. 31, was given the title of emeritus general secretary by the society's board of trustees.

Reid has been a member of the society's staff since 1952. Serving first as business manager, he was named assistant secretary in 1954 and became associate secretary in 1959. Since April 1961, he has been in charge of major administrative functions.

Beavers Provide Farm With Plenty Water

EAST ROCHESTER — While the rest of Ohio is parched from the long rainless period, Harry and Perry Lippincott's dairy farm near East Rochester is partly flooded.

At the root of the trouble is a colony of beavers who have dammed up a creek which runs between a cornfield and a railroad track.

"Our creek is about eight feet wide by the dam," says Mrs. Harry Lippincott. The water has backed up and run into the cornfield and into the pasture.

"They ate one whole row of my ornamental Indian corn and cleaned out five rows of corn altogether. We're going to have to open the dam or the cornfield and the pasture will never dry."

Lisbon Shooting Ruled 'Accidental'

Columbiana County Coroner William Kolozi today returned a verdict of "accidental shooting" in the death of James A. Moore, 18, of near Lisbon last Saturday evening.

Young Moore was fatally wounded when a rifle he and a companion, Russell Beaver, 14, were handling discharged. The coroner said the younger boy submitted to a lie detector test and successfully passed it.

Cyrano de Bergerac, Rosland's hero, was a real person. From ungainly camels, Arabs get transportation, hair for a cloth and milk for drinking.

FOUND $3,700, GOT $20—Clayton Thompson of Adrian, Texas, holds out $20 bill he received as a reward for finding $3,700 in cash in roadside park. The 16-year-old ranch hand found a wallet with $5,800 in it—including $3,700 cash—and turned it in. Elmer Hughes, moving to Hayward, Calif., who lost the purse, gave Thompson the reward.

United Fund Drive Extended One Week

With just $63,464 of the United Fund goal of $86,250 pledged, Chairman Ray Reasbeck today announced the campaign would be extended until next Friday. The drive, which started Oct. 8, was scheduled to end yesterday.

Reasbeck urges all campaigners to double their efforts and turn in their pledges as soon as possible. He also said that anyone who has not been contacted can call him, either at home or at the post office.

Despite the lag in collections, Reasbeck expressed confidence that the goal will be met or topped.

"Now they burn themselves to death because they cannot speak otherwise."

She said that Ngo Dinh Nhu should "tell his wife to stop talking and give up politics. Nhu President Diem's brother, is considered by many to be the real power in the regime."

"I think she has harmed her country by not staying at home and she has harmed the women of Viet Nam as well as the men."

Tran Le Chi shares the attractive appearance of her sister as well as an ability to speak with great pungency.

She said that originally her sister and Ngo Dinh Nhu, were poor people "and they were nice people."

"Since they have been in power they have changed a lot. Really, I think they have lost touch with the people of Viet Nam."

Altar, Rosary Group Acts On Two Items

Officers of the Altar and Rosary society of St. Paul's Church met for their quarterly meeting Wednesday evening at the rectory. Mrs. W. R. Smith, the president, presided.

It was decided to form a "sewing group" to meet at the rectory in November to check the altar boys' cassocks and surplices before the Christmas season.

It was further voted to donate $50 toward a fund to help C. Francis Gilbert, who is seriously ill and has been ordered by his doctor to seek a warmer and dryer climate. Donations toward this fund by his friends may be mailed in care of the Altar and Rosary Society, St. Paul's Church.

Firemen Extinguish Brush, Woods Blaze

THREE FORFEIT BONDS

LISBON — Three motorists forfeited bonds totaling $45 Friday when they failed to appear in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court for traffic violations.

Milo W. Reid, 30, Burgettstown, Pa. forfeited a $15 bond for operating an unsafe vehicle, and Albert Tuttle, 25, Alliance, and Wilbur Shotton, 40, Tarentum, Pa., each a $15 bond for speeding.

$1,000 Embezzled At Streetsboro Pike Interchange

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — At least $1,000 in tolls was embezzled at the Streetsboro interchange of the Ohio Turnpike, according to Portage County Prosecutor George Martin. He said two toll collectors and an Ohio Highway Patrolman are involved.

Robert Holt of Newton Falls, a toll collector at the Streetsboro interchange for two years and a seven-year turnpike employee, was the only one charged. He was arraigned in Ravenna Municipal Court Friday and asked for an attorney. His case was continued until Monday and he was freed on $2,000 bond.

Martin said the trooper, who was not named, had admitted accepting $40 from Holt "to keep quiet and keep his eyes open." The second toll collector admitted he took a total of $60 on three different days, according to the prosecutor.

Suspect Held In Ravenna Holdup

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Darryl V. Dorsey, 24, of Mantua, accused of robbing the Ravenna Savings & Loan Co. of $2,579, pleaded innocent to an armed robbery charge in municipal court here a few hours after the holdup. He was held in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Mantua Police Chief Gerald E. Buchert and Patrolman Dale E. Kernen arrested Dorsey Friday within half an hour after a man walked into the loan company office, demanded that a teller give him all the money in her cash drawer and then fled with the money in an automobile.

Buchert said he and Kernen chased Dorsey's car because it fit the broadcast description of the car used in the holdup. Dorsey was arrested on Ohio 44 as he drove toward the Ohio Turnpike.

victory in the heavily conservative district.

"We are not lurching to the right," Douglas-Home said. "We are not lurching to the left. We are not lurching at all."

In a rebuttal to charges his former post as foreign secretary did not prepare him for domestic problems, Douglas-Home concentrated heavily on bread-and-butter issues.

He called for expansion of the economy, modernization of science and technology, spreading prosperity, additional opportunity in higher education, increased construction of housing and speeded up slum clearance, continued improvement in pensions and other social welfare benefits and widened hospital and medical services throughout Britain.

Turning to international affairs, he said the current improvement in East-West relations was largely because the West had kept up its defenses.

He said Britain must continue to maintain its nuclear deterrent.

But Douglas-Home also held open new vistas for peace.

"There is a chance that we may have crossed the watershed of danger in our relations with the Soviet Union," he said. "If this proves to be so, then new possibilities would open up in the field of disarmament and control of nuclear weapons. If these hopes are realized, then negotiation would come to replace force and threats of force."

Party

Kennedy's mother, Rose. Down the crowded aisle, rustling through her file cards, was Clark Gable's widow, Kay. Mrs. Gable commented the fashion show later in the evening, featuring the Paris styles of Madame Alix Gres.

A Springfield, Mass., widow, Mrs. Sally Fenelon-Young signed a check for $9,650 to cover the cost of the 63 dinner guests she brought with her. The lavish party started with play-money gambling at 7:30 p.m. in a French restaurant-nightclub atmosphere and faded away at 5 a.m.

In between were two orchestras, troubadours, a French chanteuse and a Russian ballet dancer.

Judy Garland's daughter, Lisa Minelli, performed with Peter Duchin and Frank Sinatra Jr. in of the program.

Two pairs each of white gloves were alternately worn especially for the occasion by 155 waiters who popped 250 mugs of champagne, 3,000 bottles of wine, uncorked 100 bottles of scotch and 50 of rye, and smashed 1,000 glasses in the serving.

The guests consumed 1,900 pounds of filet mignon, 52 gallons of soup and 3,500 petit fours (small French pastries) during the seven-course meal.

To keep party crashing at a minimum, 40 security men circulated among the crowd. Elevator service was cut off at the ballroom floor. Still, 20 fakers made their way in.

In another part of the hotel, 70 limousine chauffeurs relaxed with refreshments and entertainment of their own until their partying bosses summoned the cars for the ride home.

By the time the clean-up crew was ready to move in, the ball chairman, Mrs. Stephan Sanford, figured the affair had netted $200,000 for French-American charities.

The Armory on Southeast Blvd. where Salem police and deputy sheriffs surprised them in the act of stealing guns.

Robert W. Miller, 28, Alliance, also pleaded guilty and he and Johnson will testify in the trial of William N. Eddings, 35, Pittsburgh, who pleaded not guilty to the offense. Eddings escaped, but was later apprehended by the State Highway Patrol in a car with Robert Bingham of Salem. The latter, who testified in Johnson's trial, was not indicted by the jury.

Eddings' trial will resume Monday after being recessed at 3:15 p.m. Thursday after the state had rested its case. Police Chief Martin Lutsch of Salem testified he saw Eddings run from the armory lot just as the police cruisers arrived.

Miller, first to testify for Eddings, reported Eddings didn't know what was going on and was not in the armory. Eddings and Bingham went to their car and were later picked up by state highway patrol on Route 62 west of Salem.

Request for new trial in another case was filed by Gene D. Boals, 33, RD 4, Salem, for driving while intoxicated. It was refused by Judge Sharp. Boals had been found guilty by a petit jury on Oct. 10.

LEAVES AT 8:01

The Pennsylvania Railroad Manhattan Limited, train 22, to New York, will leave the Salem station at 8:01 p.m. daily, instead of 8:18 p.m. as previously announced.

Salem Falls Apart In Fourth Quarter, Loses 42-8

Goard Gets Quakers' TD Against Spartans

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

For three quarters last night, Salem held its own with Boardman, but the Quakers fell apart in the final frame and lost 42-8 to the Spartans before the largest crowd of the season at Reilly Stadium.

With its fifth loss in eight starts, Salem will begin practice Monday for its annual clash with powerful East Liverpool next Friday. The Potters edged West Virginia's No. 1 team, Weirton, 20-18 Friday night for their sixth win in eight tries.

Salem took the opening kickoff and marched from its own 18 to the Boardman 37, where a fumble, which caused a four-yard loss, bogged down the drive.

The Quakers dominated play in the initial period, picking up four first downs and completing four of five passes.

AFTER A BEAUTIFUL run by Junior halfback Cody Goard, who took a pass from Earley and scampered 41 yards for a first down, Salem fumbled and the Spartans recovered at their own 33.

The bobbles seemed to inspire the visitors, and in seven plays Boardman covered the distance for the first touchdown of the game, with halfback Bob Mead scoring from two yards out.

During the drive, quarterback Tom Brown tossed passes to Mead for 18 yards and to halfback Don Ross for 13 and nine yards to set up the TD. At intermission Boardman (6-2) led 6-0.

Early in the third frame, Salem failed to get a man back on a Boardman punting situation and Ross' boot rolled dead, a 52-yarder, on the Quakers' three-yard line.

EARLEY THREW AN incomplete pass, then connected with end Art Spack for three yards to the Salem six. Earley went back to pass again but was dropped in his own end zone for a safety.

Fullback George Begalla then kicked off for Salem and Mead returned the pigskin to the Salem 43. In six plays, Boardman had another six points, with Mead cracking the Salem defensive for a three-yard touchdown.

Halfback Mike DeRienzo returned the next kickoff to the Salem 20. Then Salem put on its best offensive thrust of the evening as it marched the 80 yards for a TD.

Earley cleverly mixed his plays. He made three yards himself to start the drive, then tossed to Spack for 13 yards. Begalla then carried three straight times and a first down on the Salem 46.

Sophomore back Dave Fleischer scooted for 10 to the visitors' 10. Earley failed to get any yardage on a keeper, but Fleischer came right back to pick up six.

SPACK CAUGHT A 14-yard pass from Earley to give Salem a first down at the Boardman 24. Goard caught a beautiful touchdown pass from Earley at the one and stepped into the end one, with only 12 seconds left to go in the third stanza.

From this point on it was all Boardman. Mead returned the next kickoff, ending the third frame, to the Spartans' 39.

In eight plays, the Spartans went 61 yards to put the contest out of reach. Three passes for 16, 13 and 21 featured in the drive. Mead scored the touchdown, his second of the game, on a 14-yard end sweep.

With a little more than 5:30 to go, Boardman moved the football 70 yards in three plays for a touchdown, with substitute quarterback Lee Tracy connecting with Don Cornwell for 29 yards, and the Spartans moved ahead 28-8.

The Spartans took over on the Salem 33 to set up the next TD. Passes from Tracy to Dale Saylor and to Jack Malesky for 23 yards gave the winners a 34-8 margin.

AN INTERCEPTED PASS returned by John Walsh gave the Spartans a first down on the Salem 28. Tom Maher caught a pass from Tracy for 21 yards, and Nick Cello plunged over for the TD.

Earley threw 18 passes and completed 11 for 96 yards. Brown and Tracy tossed 14 airmails, and 10 of the passes were complete for 173 yards.

Boardman limited Salem to 37 yards rushing in 29 carries. Begalla picked up 31 of those yards in 10 tries. The Quakers held the bigger Spartan's squad to 128 yards on the ground.

Powerful Louisville Hands Columbiana 48-0 Setback

Fullback Bob Gladieux scored three times and ran 167 yards on 10 carries to lead the Louisville Leopards to a 48-0 rout over the visiting Columbiana team Friday.

Gladieux, a junior, has now scored 104 points and has gained 1,263 yards running this season. The Leopards ran their season's scoring total to 360 before a homecoming crowd.

Coach Hap Lillick's charges gained a total of 392 yards, 245 coming on rushes, as they scored in every period.

End Mike Katich first put the home team on the scoreboard with nine minutes left in the initial period, grabbing a 25-yard pass from quarterback Larry White in the end one to conclude a 65-yard drive. Bill ran for the extra two. Gladieux scored next at the beginning of the second half with a 29-yard run around left end. A run for extra points was not successful.

Louisville's fourth score came marked the first of his three successive tallies. Givens again ran for the conversion.

A beautiful 72-yard run through the center by Gladieux midway through the second quarter midway in the third period on a 28-yard Gladieux run - this time around right end. The conversion run attempt failed.

Halfback Dale Minor marked up the Leopards' next two scores. The first came on a four-yard run through center near the end of the quarter, following a 21-yard drive. A run for extra points failed.

Minor scored again in the early stages of the final period, plunging one yard through center to culminate a drive of 35 yards. Again, the conversion run attempt was not successful.

Concluding the scoring, with 30 seconds remaining in the contest, was a 65-yard pass from halfback Chuck Ehlers to end Jerry Linerode. Jeff Sigler was successful in his run for the extra points, making the final score, 48-0.

The powerful Stark County aggregation, beaten only by Canton South in its second game of the season will attempt to extend its winning streak to seven when it travels to East Palestine Friday.

Coach George Fisher's Clippers, now 3-3-2, will attempt to get back into the win column Friday when they entertain the Blue Devils of Lisbon.

Lisbon Knocks Off Hapless Leetonia Bears 34-0

A tough Lisbon offense, smarting from a 44-0 loss at the hands of Louisville last week, rebounded and handed the Leetonia Bears a smashing 34-0 defeat at Leetonia Friday.

The Blue Devils capitalized on an aerial attack, scoring three of their five touchdowns on passes. The Leetonia defense, although it looked better, perhaps than it has in recent outings, was unable to stop the Lisbon attack.

A passing combination of quarterback Larry McPherson to halfback Dave Rose was responsible for two of the five scores chalked up by Coach Bud Bucher's charges.

Lisbon began its attack with 11 minutes left in the second period when fullback Gary Peruchetti hit pay dirt on a three-yard plunge to culminate a 60-yard drive. A run for extra points failed.

Rose scored the first of his three tallies on an 11-yard run with 6:13 showing on the scoreboard in the half. The Blue Devils had driven 49 yards prior to Rose's run. McPherson ran the conversion.

Cardinals Score TD with 22 Seconds Left

Canfield Edges Austintown 8-6

Canfield Coach Jack Peterson's squad showed a tremendous defensive effort in holding Austintown Fitch to one touchdown and managed to score with 22 seconds left in the contest to eke out an 8-6 win at Austintown Friday night.

The undefeated Cardinals have had only 20 points scored against them this season in eight outings. The other 14 came in a tie with Columbiana.

Fitch had control of the pigskin more often than the visitors and gained a total of 220 yards to Canfield's 201. It was the defensive unit, however, which starred in keeping Fitch from scoring after the initial period.

The hosts' one tally came midway in the quarter on a one-yard run by fullback Fred Lawrence to culminate an 80-yard drive. The conversion run attempt was unsuccessful.

U.S. Golfers Are Behind At Paris Event

PARIS (AP)—Retief Waltman, a little known South African golfer, shrugged off talk that Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer still would take the Canada Cup trophy and said: "No matter how well the Americans are playing, I'm sure we can take them."

Waltman, a 25-year-old former mounted policeman, and Gary Player led the team standings at the end of the second with a total of 277.

Nicklaus and Palmer are in a three-way tie for second place with a 278. Canadians Stan Leonard and Al Balding and Spaniards Sebastian Miguel and Ramon Sota also have 278 totals.

Players from 33 countries play one more round today and another Sunday to decide the team and individual competitions.

Player and Balding are in a tie for the individual prize with a two-round total of 138. They are followed by Miguel, Sota, Palmer, Nicklaus and Waltman at 139.

Waltman joined with Player for this tournament after threatening to quit big-time golf three or four times because he thought he would never hit the big time.

Browns Seek 7th In Row In NFL Clash With New York Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP) — New York's desperate Giants, trailing by two games in their bid for a third straight conference title, will shoot the works tomorrow on the pitching arm of Y. A. Tittle in the battle against Jim Brown and his unbeaten Cleveland teammates.

A crowd of 84,000 frantic football fans will be rooting for the Browns to repeat their 35-24 triumph of two weeks ago in Yankee Stadium when Brown ran wild for three touchdowns and 209 yards in running and pass catching.

If high scoring Cleveland chalks up its seventh win at the halfway mark of the 14-game National Football League season, the Giants can be counted out of the race.

Both teams are relatively healthy for the game, although, Cleveland has a patched up line-backing corps. Regular right line-backer Galen Fiss probably will miss the contest. Two other line-backers M.K. Lucci and Sam Tidmore have been placed on the injured reserve list.

The key factor may be how much pressure the Browns' front four of Bill Glass, Frank Parker, Bob Gain and Paul Wiggins can exert on the passing of the 37-year-old Tittle, ranked the best in the NFL. They did the job in Yankee Stadium.

The Giants also will be strengthened for the return meeting by a healthy Alex Webster, who always plays well against the Browns and is a clutch performer. Mickey Walker is the only Giant not expected to see action.

With the Giants and middle linebacker Sam Huff primed to halt the running of Brown, who is off to his greatest rushing season with 935 yards and 11 touchdowns, Cleveland may rely more on the passing of quarterback Frank Ryan

Ryan is ranked only a shade behind Tittle as a passer and has been effective in throwing key aerials. He has hit flanker Gary Collins for seven touchdowns and Rich Kreitling for four among his 16 touchdowns. Jim Shofer, who did a good job shadowing the Giants' Del Shofner (no relation) before pulling a muscle, may yield the right corner back position to Bobby Franklin.

With Fiss sidelined, the Browns will use rookie Stan Szurek, who was activated only a week ago, at linebacker. Tom Goosby another rookie who is on the taxi squad working out with the team, probably will be placed on the roster as a line-backer before the game to replace Tidmore.

The Browns tuned up in their final workout yesterday with some new offensive wrinkles and coach Blanton Collier declared: "they're ready."

Rudolph Leads Fresno Golf Tourney

By DICK BARNES

Associated Press Sports Writer
FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Mason Rudolph likes to golf in California because he can't read the big "E" on eye charts.

Sound confusing? Mason has an explanation: "I like to play out here this time of year because we catch the best weather. Playing with glasses in the rain we would get most anywhere else puts me at a disadvantage."

"I certainly have to wear the glasses because I can't see the big 'E' without them." But the specs don't have windshield wipers.

His first two rounds at the $25,000 Fresno Open also make Mason partial to autumn golf in California. He fired a 67 Friday to go with Thursday's first-round 66 and took a five-stroke lead into Saturday's third round. Rudolph, 29, now playing out of Lehigh Acres, Fla., after a student golfing career at Memphis State, admits that his thick glasses get his vision down to practically 20-20.

His sight was good enough to convince him Friday that a second shot at the 430-yard 17th hole required a five-iron, not the six he first selected.

He promptly belted the ball six inches from the cup to set up his most spectacular of six birdies in a 34-33 round at the 7,181-yard, par 36-36-72 San Joaquin Country Club course.

The five-stroke edge is the biggest he's ever held in a professional tournament.

But he was four blows ahead after three rounds at the Portland, Ore. Open a month ago and lost that one in a playoff to Canadian George Knudson. Knudson is in fourth place at Fresno, seven strokes off the pace with a 71-69-140. Tommy Aaron is second with 68-70-138 and Buster Cupit is third at 71-68-139.

Illinois Rallies To Nip UCLA 18-12 Friday

College Football Hits Halfway Mark Today; OSU, Badgers Meet

By TFD MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
The college football season hits the halfway mark this weekend with Texas, Wisconsin and Pitt, the nation's 1-2-3 teams meeting Rice, Ohio State and Navy.

Illinois, No. 4, came from behind to beat UCLA 13-12 in an intersectional game Friday night at Los Angeles. Richmond and Virginia Military battled to a 7-7 tie in a Southern Conference game at Richmond.

Behind 10-0 at the half, underdog UCLA stunned the Illini with two third period touchdowns by Byron Nelson to go ahead 12-10. The Big Ten team pulled it out in the last quarter on a 62-yard march that ended with fullback Jim Grabowski diving over from the 1. Rich Callaghan grabbed a pass from Fred Custer for a two-point conversion to wind up the scoring.

Illinois' first half points came on a 21-yard run by Sam Price and Jim Plankenhorn's 25-yard field goal. Nelson's touchdowns for UCLA came on a 24-yard run with an intercepted pass and on a seven-yard aerial he caught from Larry Zeno.

The No. 1 Texas Longhorns, who have won five straight, have no illusions about Rice.

MSU Grid Coach Daugherty Given New 5-Year Contract

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The luck of the Irish has taken the wrong bounce for one Notre Dame martians who figured that Michigan State football Coach Duffy Daugherty might be moving to South Bend, Ind.

The Michigan State University board of trustees, in an unprecedented move Friday, gave Daugherty what amounts to a five-year job guarantee. The board pledged to keep him "for at least the next five years."

MSU President John Hannah said the move should bury current rumors that Daugherty was about to make a change. Reports had it that the 48-year-old coach was being wooed by Notre Dame and that Duffy was interested in coaching the Fighting Irish.

"I couldn't be happier," Daugherty said when informed of the action. Hannah said the unanimous trustee endorsement gives Daugherty the same status as the head of an academic department. Daugherty—who makes $20,500 a year—already held a lifetime appointment to the MSU physical education staff, but this would not have barred switching him from head coach to another job.

Daugherty has been head coach for 10 seasons, during which his Spartan teams rolled up 55 victories while losing 28 games and tying three others. MSU this season has won two, lost one and tied one.

another vital Ivy League game. Down South, unbeaten Duke battles North Carolina State in an important Atlantic Coast Conference struggle, Louisiana State meets Florida, Georgia Tech takes on Tulane and Mississippi State engages Memphis State.

Topflight pairings in other sections of the country include Arkansas-Texas; Missouri-Iowa State; Oregon-Washington; Southern California-California; Michigan-Minnesota; Iowa-Purdue and Colorado-Nebraska.

Ford To Purchase NFL Lions For $6 Million At Nov. Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Stockholders of the Detroit Lions were urged Friday to let a Ford take sole possession of the driver's seat of the National Football League club.

In a unanimous vote, 13 Lions directors accented William Clay Ford's offer to buy the club for $6 million.

The directors recommended that the 144 stockholders of the Detroit Football Co. make the deal official at a meeting Nov. 22. Stockholders approval is necessary—though it's considered a formality—before the 38-year-old Ford can become sole owner of the club.

Ford, a member of the Ford automotive family, greeted the board's recommendation with these words: "I am absolutely pleased."

"I've given a lot of thought to changes," Ford said, "but I have to get the stockholders' approval before I do anything."

Ford has been Lions' president since 1961. Ford is a grandson of Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Co. His brother, Henry II, is board chairman of the firm, and William Clay himself is a Ford vice president and director.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

The Ohio hunting seasons are open, according to Fred E. Morr, director of the Department of Natural Resources, and Dale E. Whitesell, Chief Division of Wildlife. There has been speculation as to the advisability of the Division taking this positive stand, and other states that have closed their season are pointed out as examples.

New York was one of the first to close seasons and West Virginia followed soon after. The fires continued in these states with no let up and in some cases increased in intensity and size.

Hunting seasons in Ohio have been open since Sept. 6 on squirrel, and have recently opened on grouse and archery season for deer, plus waterfowl season. Mostly fires have been caused by cigarettes tossed carelessly from automobiles, sparks from trains, and trash burning.

Ohio looks at its outdoorsmen as a "coonskin cap brigade" of volunteer fire wardens who will aid greatly in early detection and fighting of possible fires.

NOTICE
The tax return for the current year has been revised and the valuation completed and is open for public inspection in the Office of the County Auditor.

Complaints against any valuation will be heard by the Board of Revision subsequent to its organization meeting, Monday, January 13, 1964, in the quarters of Board of Revision, Court House, Lisbon, Ohio. This notice published as required by Section 5715.17 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio. Kenneth Bell, Secretary, Board of Revision, Lisbon, Ohio, Oct. 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 & 26, 1963.

He was asked to comment on reports that Paul Brown, former coach of the Cleveland Browns, was being considered General Manager Edwin Anderson.

"I've made no commitments to anyone so far," Ford replied. He added, however, that Lion's Coach George Wilson is secure in his job, despite Detroit's lackluster showing this season. Considered championship contenders in pre-season speculation, the Lions have fizzled with only two victories in six starts.

"I certainly have no plan to get rid of George Wilson," the automobile company executive said.

Ford has been Lions' president since 1961.

Ford is a grandson of Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Co. His brother, Henry II, is board chairman of the firm, and William Clay himself is a Ford vice president and director.

thus holding down the size and number of fires.

The Department of Natural Resources feels outdoorsmen will be a great asset during this fire emergency by letting them go in the field and help protect the public interest while enjoying Ohio's great outdoors.

The University of Kentucky won its only Southeast Conference football title in 1950. The New York Yankees scored only four runs in the 1963 World Series and all were scored in the last three innings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers made only one double play in winning the 1963 World Series.

BOWLING BALL BARGAIN?

This is a true story. Last Saturday a lady came to our bowling ball shop with a "Bargain" bowling ball. She was right handed, but her ball was drilled left handed. The span was one quarter inch too short and the finger holes were large enough that I could put my thumb in them. Her hand is so sore that she is learning to bowl left handed. The five finger ball can be used for the purchase of left handed shoes or for the first bill she receives from her chiropractor.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Our new parking lot was a big help when we had the horse pull. We were able to not only park those who watched the pull but everyone who came to shop as well.

We can park hundreds of cars out here now. I wanted to see what the place would look like full and I found out, it's a pleasant sight.

On weekends if you find the front lot full don't leave, park in the side lots or in the back. You can come in the back door if you wish, lots of our customers do.

Even though it looks like we are loaded, don't hesitate, we have lots of room inside for people and as a rule you can get in and out in a hurry if you wish.

Fairfield Ruritan Club Elects Fox

Richard Fox was elected president when members of the Fairfield Ruritan met Thursday evening for dinner at Heck's Restaurant.

Other officers elected for 1964 are: Vice president, Jon Mc-Masters, secretary, Floyd Coleman; treasurer, Floyd Williamson; and director, Edgar Bell.

Special guests were George Simon of RD 1, East Palestine, who was honored as the 1963 Young Farmer of the Year, his wife, Eleanor and sons, Danny, 9, Lee 11, and Philip, 13. Mr. Simon operates a 160 acre poultry farm where the family have resided for 12 years.

Paul Gipp of Warren, head of the Co-op Production Credit Corp., was guest speaker and spoke on the economy of the nation and its effect on the farmer.

Mr. Fox and Wilbur Weber were appointed to attend the Ohio State Convention Nov. 2 at Sandy Valley.

Ladies Night will be observed at the next meeting Nov. 21 at 7 p.m. at Heck's Restaurant.

Boy Scouts Help Goodwill Industries

The Columbiana Council of Boy Scouts of America today opened its first week-long "Good Turn for Goodwill" drive. The project will benefit the Christ Mission Goodwill Industries, a non-profit organization devoted to training and employing handicapped persons.

Today through Nov. 2, Boy Scouts will place Goodwill bags in homes in Salem and other communities in the Columbiana scout Council area, the filled bags will be picked up Nov. 2.

Mrs. Robert Hasson of Goshen Rd. is Salem area Goodwill representative. Others are Mrs. William Stockman and Mrs. Rita Poppel in Columbiana and Miss Eva Armstrong in Lisbon.
